Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be entirely relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

DR. J. T. JOHNSON Guarantees to correct every case that he undertakes. If your eyes are giving annoyance consult him at once.

PRACTICALLY A NEW YARD

Will be Arranged When the Depot is Completed.

Immediately after the completion of the Southern's new depot the railroad yard will undergo an almost complete change. The transfer shed, old depot and superintendent's and dispatchers' office building will be torn away and the turn table will probably be moved also, though Superintendent O'Brien today told a Telegram reporter that he was not certain about the latter.

Just how the tracks will be arranged on the new yard has not yet been fully decided, though Mr. O'Brien says that a line of tracks parallel to each other will extend beyond the site now occupied by his office building. The main line will be laid to the best advantage, making very little curve on the east end of the station.

Citizens would welcome the removal of the turn table and it is hoped that the officials may see fit to give it some other position on the yard, as so many engines standing so near the side walk makes the street appear very uncivil-like. There will be no grumbling, however, as the Southern has shown a marked willingness to improve the appearance of the street when it could do so without great cost and disadvantage to itself.

NOT INHERITED.

Seven Sutherland Sisters' Beautiful Hair Produced by Using Tonics.

"Too many people have erroneous impressions as to how the Seven Sutherland Sisters attained their phenomenal growth of hair," says Manager Currier. "Many people believe that the sisters inherited their hair, when the fact is, it was produced by careful treatment and the correct use of hair preparations formulated by their father, Rev. Fletcher Sutherland."

Several years ago, when Mr. Sutherland resided in Lockport, N. Y., he began to lose his hair to an alarming extent. The family physician prescribed a tonic, but it did not prove satisfactory, and, being a great student of chemistry, Mr. Sutherland concluded to experiment with the aid of his physician. The result was very satisfactory. The hair and scalp were not only restored to their original healthfulness, but the new hair assumed a soft, glossy condition, highly pleasing.

"Mr. Sutherland then treated the hair and scalp of his seven daughters, with a result well known all over this country."

"There is practically no reason for thin hair or baldness," continued Mr. Currier. "If the hair and scalp are regularly and thoroughly cleansed with non-injurious washes, and then properly groomed and treated with a meritorious hair grower, millions of people, especially ladies, could possess as luxurious hair as enjoyed by the Seven Sutherland Sisters."

Lieut. Shipp's Body.

Mr. F. H. Busbee leaves this morning for New York to receive the remains of his son-in-law, Lieut. William E. Shipp, from Cuba.

The casket containing the body was expected to arrive on the "Rumania," but a telegram from the quarter master general's department, received in Raleigh yesterday, stated that the body would arrive on the "McClellan," which is expected to arrive in New York today or tomorrow.

Mrs. Busbee, who is the father of Mrs. Shipp, will accompany the remains to North Carolina, whose people have a soft place in their hearts for his memory and feeling a great pride in the manly man and brave, heroic soldier—Morning Post.

He Should Have Stayed Away.

Alex Walker was tried before Squire Eekle this afternoon on a charge of stealing a set of harness from Mrs. Mary Plint, two years ago. The warrant was issued two years ago, but before it could be served, Alex left for an extended visit to his aunt in some distant part. Knowing that the warrant would go out of date in two years he returned, but only to find that the warrant had been renewed. He was arrested near Pomona by Deputy Sheriff James Edmundson. Squire Eekle bound him over to court and in default of $100 bond he was returned to jail. His family lives at Proximity.

Built His Own Gallows.

Atlanta, March 14—Robert Lewis, who had four living wives, hanged today for the murder of H. H. Hayes last December. Lewis erected his own gallows some months since. He mounted the scaffold with every manifestation of indifference.

TO PRODUCE A HARDY FRUIT

An Attempt Being Made to Hybridize Oranges.

EXPERIMENTS ARE ENCOURAGING

A Number of Hybrid Plants to Be Planted in South Carolina and Other Southern States.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 14—Professor Webber, of the agriculture bureau, who has been experimenting for some months to ascertain some process to hybridize oranges, so as to produce a fruit which will withstand the frost, will leave in a few days for the south, and will be absent from Washington for some time. During his absence he expects to visit North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and perhaps other southern states, for the purpose of continuing his experiments. Prof. Webber has produced a hybrid orange tree from the sweet orange of Indian river, and the trifoliate, a rugged and hardy fruit growing in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia; the latter fruit is very sour and can be used only for preserving. The experiments have so far met with good results. The Professor in his trip will take a number of these hybrid plants with him. They will not be in condition to produce fruit for at least three years, but he intends to plant them in various parts of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and probably will try some experiments in North Carolina, in order to test their ability to resist the severe frosts which frequently occur.

Professor Webber was seen at the agriculture department the other day, and he showed some of the results of his experiments, explaining the process of hybridization. He is much encouraged by the results of his efforts so far, and believes that the tests to be made in the south will fully repay both himself and the department of agriculture for the time and labor which have been expended.

Notwithstanding the withdrawal of Hon. Joseph Bailey, of Texas, from the contest for the democratic leadership of the next house, many representatives in Washington believe that he will be renominated as the minority candidate for speakership. Representative Swanson, of Virginia, who has been a supporter of Mr. Bailey, is of the opinion that he will again be chosen. In speaking about the matter the other day, Mr. Swanson said that Bailey is the best man for the leadership of the fifty-sixth congress, and he thinks a majority of the democratic members will be of the same opinion.

The opinion at the war department is that the First North Carolina regiment will be mustered out of the service at Savannah, Ga., although it is possible that the mustering out may be done at Raleigh, which it would seem would be better, so far as the members are concerned.

J. Fred Oertel, of North Carolina, has been appointed a clerk in the secretary's office, treasury department, at one thousand dollars per annum, being transferred from the office of general appraisers at New York city, where he has been stationed heretofore.

Senator Quay, who is at San Lucie, with his family, has been sent an invitation by Senator Hanna to join the presidential party at Thomsville, Ga. Nothing is known about the intentions of Senator Quay, but the opinion is expressed that he may go to Thomsville the latter part of the week for a few days. Senator Hanna stated Monday afternoon before leaving Washington for the south that there is absolutely no political significance in the president's visit to Georgia, notwithstanding the published reports to the contrary. The president goes south merely for recreation and to enable him to rest from the burden of the strain to which he has been subjected for so many months.

A. P. Thorpe, a prominent citizen of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, is in the city on a business trip. He is registered at the Metropolitan Hotel.

H. M. McAden, of North Carolina, is in Washington on a business trip, stopping at the Shoreham Hotel. Mr. McAden is one of the substantial citizens of the state, residing in a little villa named after himself—McAdenville.

Messrs. E. A. Bradsher and O. P. Shell and Miss F. E. Halden, of North Carolina, are at the St. James Hotel.

Despite the very inclement weather quite a number of the friends and relatives of the deceased followed the remains to their last resting place in Greene Hill.

CONFEDERATE BATTLE FLAGS.

As Many as Possible Wanted for the Charleston Reunion.

New Orleans, March 11, '99. To all Comrades:

1. It has been suggested to the general commanding, and he heartily endorses the request, that all department, division, brigade and camp commanders will take steps to collect as many of the old "Battle Flags" and flags of the Confederacy, and banners and ensigns of every description, which waved over the Confederate armies, as possible, to be displayed at the Charleston reunion.

There are a great many no doubt through the south in private hands, at the headquarters of the different camps, and at the state capitals, etc., and it would be in keeping with the grandeur of the occasion, upon this visit of the old soldiers to the chief city of the great state which gave birth to the Confederacy, and where the first gun of the war was fired, to take with them the historic flag which waved over them there at Fort Moultrie and Sumter, and the other three, with all the other banners and ensigns which floated over them amidst the smoke and carnage of more than two thousand battle fields, before they were furled forever at Appomattox.

The general commanding hopes that an effort will be made through publication in the papers, and otherwise so as to secure the largest number possible for this purpose.

Doubtless many flags will be taken care of by the delegates and others to whom they are entrusted, but where it is necessary that they should be sent by express, they can be sent to the special care of Major General C. Irvine Walker, com. the S. C. div U. C. V's., Charleston, S. C., who will arrange a safe depository for them while there.

2. Col. Robt. P. Evans, chairman committee on information, Charleston, S. C., states that on and after the 15th inst. his committee will be in a position to give any information as to housing quarters, rates of board, etc., to delegates desiring to attend the reunion. He states that his committee will undertake to engage quarters for, and locate any of the veterans in advance of their coming, but must have a positive guarantee of their coming by April 15. By order of

J. B. Gordon,
General Commanding.

A DETERMINED CAMPAIGN

Has Been Inaugurated to Wear The Philippines Out.

BE CARRIED ON UNCEASINGLY

Until The Authority of The United States in The Philippines Is Undisputed.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
Manila, March 14—The march to ward Paterson, the second objective point of General Wheaton's flying column has begun. General Wheaton will not hold his hand until he closes on Malolos, the insurgent capital. The march on Patena begun this morning after driving a fight on the left of the church in Pasig. The men had slept on their arms and were ready in an instant for service. An hour after Scott's battery shelled, General Wood left the Pasig church and the Twenty-second regulars were ordered to advance. They swung into line with as much alacrity as though they had not had twenty-four hours of constant fighting over the roughest country. The rebels met them with repeated volleys but were answered in short order. In order to save time went to the native roadways. The gunboats shelled the jungles as the troops advanced.

ADMINISTRATION'S POLICY.

Washington, March 14—It is the unchangeable policy of the administration to pursue the Filipino army, either until its further effectiveness is destroyed or Aguinaldo is compelled to sue for peace without conditions. WILL SHE?

The following, clipped from the Charlotte Observer of Sunday, is worthy of a careful, and we might say, prayerful reading:

Under the heading "North Carolina Will be Lonely," the Birmingham, Ala., Age-Herald, has the following editorial:

"It is fortunate that this state took steps to reduce the illiteracy when it did, for one of the two names that stood between that of this state and the foot of the list has been rudely and forever withdrawn. There remains only North Carolina now, a state that is now holding the tail-end position—a state, too, that will continue to hold it unless she takes steps, as Alabama has done, to move her name up the list.

"New Mexico did stand below Alabama, but in the new census that Territory will rank high up in the tables. She has long people enough to form a basis for a state, but in congress the charge has heretofore prevailed that her people were unfit for statehood, because she held under the census of 1890 the unrivaled percentage of 65 in the lists of illiterates. She went deliberately at work to develop her school system, saying very little about it, and the best estimates of today go to show that since 1890 she has reduced her illiterates to 15 per cent. When the nature of the population of New Mexico is considered, this is a remarkable result. Half-breeds and all kinds of breeds except straight breeds constitute 80 per cent. of her population, and yet this population promises to be well fitted for the duties of citizenship.

"The work that the census of next year will prove beyond cavil has been accomplished in New Mexico and will be repeated in Alabama in the next ten years. A million dollars each year will lift up 700,000 children, fitting them for self-government, for the duties of life, and for work that will redound to the prosperity and glory of the state. It is not much per capita, but it will do, especially when Superintendent Abernethy's hands are strengthened by a law that weeds out incompetent county superintendents and takes from politics such guardians of the children."

North Carolinians must blush for their state as they read this editorial, from which the following facts appear: that heretofore New Mexico has had more illiterates than any other state or territory, North Carolina being one above it and Alabama one above North Carolina. Now New Mexico outstrips North Carolina, leaving us at the very foot of the list, while Alabama has moved up and gotten further away from us.

Verily, the legislature of this state did well, the other day, in appropriating $100,000 of public money to supplement the school fund. It was none too early about it. It is true this $100,000 will run the schools only six days longer, but that is something, and it is even more in promise than in actual result. It means an educational interest, and a willingness to deal more liberally with this subject than heretofore. We cannot but regard this appropriation as an indication of the dawn of a better day, the noon-tide of which we hope the present generation will see.

North Carolina can change this state of affairs. Will she? We believe she will. There is a larger percentage of pure Anglo-Saxon people in North Carolina than any other state in the union. Her intelligent citizenship is as good as any in the world, but unfortunately they are in the minority. Still they can leaven the whole and they will do it to the credit and glory of the Old North State.

While the educational movement is on the upgrade in North Carolina and is being much discussed, The Telegram hopes to have something to say from time to time that will be of benefit to and that will deal directly with the educational interests of Greensboro and Guilford county.

The impression seems to prevail among some inhabitants of Germany that there is no such thing as a distinctive American spirit. Investigation however has established the fact that there is considerable latent energy in the hind leg of a mule.

The resignation of Mr. Bailey, of Texas, as democratic leader in the house suggests the control a man has over his movements during a brief residence on a piece of banana peel.

A TALK ON ASBESTOS

SOME LIGHT UPON HOW LONG IT HAS BEEN IN USE.

A Man With a Mine of Information About the Mineral, but Who Would Not Take a Tempting Bet.

An elderly man, with a gray mustache, looked up from a plate of spaghetti which he was eating in a restaurant and spoke to three others:

"Say," he said, "what do you people know about asbestos?"

Two of his companions preserved a modest silence, but the third, who was a little man, spoke up:

"I know all about asbestos," he said. "Do, eh?" queried the man with the spaghetti on his plate. "Then how long's it been in use?"

"Well," said the little man, hesitatingly, "it's 80 years."

"You're away off. Of course you didn't know that Charlemagne had an asbestos tablecloth?"

"Who's Charlemagne?"

"Well," said the elderly man, "Charlemagne was king of the Franks and emperor of the Romans about 1,100 years ago. He was a great fighter and owned an asbestos tablecloth."

"Don't believe it," said the little man. "I never heard of asbestos until the Centennial."

"Well, Charlemagne had the cloth all right," said the elderly man. "He used to astonish his friends from the interior by throwing the tablecloth into the fire after dinner, and of course it didn't burn. Asbestos became quite fashionable after that for towels and napkins. It saved laundry bills. All a man's wife had to do was to throw the week's wash into the stove and it came out as clean as chalk."

"Say," said the little man, incredulously, "do you think you can string me like that?"

"It's so," declared the elderly man. "But of course you never heard that Benjamin Franklin had an asbestos purse?"

"No. Had he?" asked the little man, with a sneer.

"Of course he had. He took it over to England with him and sold it to a man in Bloomsbury, London, for a big sum."

"I suppose," said the little man, with a wink, "that the Englishman was a friend of yours, and you know his name?"

"No," replied the first man, "I never saw him, but he was called Sir Hans Sloane, and he had a museum."

"Dine museum?" grinned the little man.

"Not a bit of it," smiled the elderly man good naturedly. "It was a sure enough museum, and as a matter of fact it constituted the nucleus of the British museum. I dare say that Benjamin Franklin's asbestos purse is there yet."

The little man looked a little crestfallen, but the elderly man consoled him.

"Don't worry," he said, "there are lots of people besides yourself who are shy on knowledge regarding asbestos. It wasn't much used during recent centuries. In 1876 an asbestos handkerchief was shown to the Royal society as a great curiosity by Dr. Plak, who had bought it from a traveler on his return from China. They called it salamander's wool. Dr. Plak saturated the handkerchief with oil and threw it into a fierce charcoal fire. The oil burned off, but the handkerchief remained intact. The fellows of the society were much interested and were not greatly surprised when the price of asbestos in Chinese Tartary was quoted at $400 a Chinese ell, which isn't much more than an English yard. It's likely that the price had risen since the days of the ancients, for these old fellows had big sheets of asbestos, which they wound around corpses before cremating them."

"That's a long time ago," said the little man sententiously.

"Well," continued the elderly man, "if you want to come down to latest years, there was a book published in London, 40 years ago, giving accounts, among other things, of remarkable experiments previously made at Milan, Italy, by the Chevalier Aldini, who had used asbestos in the construction of a suit of fireproof armor. The coverings for arms, legs and body were of heavy cloth which had been soaked in a strong solution of alum. The helmet, gauntlets and stockings were of asbestos. Upon there was an overdress, covering the body, thighs and feet, of wire gauze, 20 meshes to the inch. With this armor on, men stood on a big gridiron over a blazing fire for ten minutes and buried their heads in piles of burning hay and shavings, but nevertheless they came out unharmed. They also handled bars of white hot iron and did other things which seemed quite miraculous. That was over 40 years ago."

"Well," said the little man, "it's hard to believe that for several hundreds of thousands of years the world was so full of chumps that there wasn't room for a man smart enough to utilize asbestos. On the whole, I guess I'll go on doubting."

"All right," returned the elderly man. "I've got $5,000 that says I'm right. Perhaps your doubts are strong enough to uphold a bet of $10 against it."

But the little man wouldn't bet.—New York Times.

The Money They Bring.

Statistics in regard to the amount of money brought to this country by European immigrants show that the German is the richest, with an average of $53.50, while the Englishman is a close second, with $52. The Frenchman has $47.25 and the Belgian $45, while the Irishman brings but $15, the Russian $12.50 and the Italian $10.

Probably the Italian takes more back to his native land, however, than any of the others.—New York Tribune.

Before the discovery of One Minute Cough Cure, ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now. Howard Gardner's.

Eggs and Germs.

It was formerly thought that an egg must be safe eating whatever the surroundings, since its shell covered completely the part eaten, but it has now been shown unmistakably that germs of disease can even find their way through an eggshell. For instance, the typhus bacillus and the cholera bacillus have both been found to make their way through an unbroken eggshell in about 16 hours and locate themselves in the nutrient contents.

This is a clear indication, therefore, that the greatest care should be exercised in the storage and handling of eggs, since they may thus be made vehicles for most deadly poisons. Doubtless the immunity from such evils which we enjoy in our use of eggs as food is due to the fact that we generally cook them in a high temperature before we eat them and thus deal death to the germs and safety to ourselves.—Good Words.

Treating Lockjaw.

Recently a young man in New Jersey was treated successfully for tetanus by the injection of serum into the brain. That is not the method of treating lockjaw out in Missouri. Several years ago a citizen of Liberty, Mo., was suffering from tetanus. Local physicians failed to relieve him, and Dr. Wood of Kansas City, a gruff old gentleman, was called. Arriving at the home of the patient he found the room full of sympathizing neighbors. The physician proceeded toward the sick man and remarked, "Why in don't you shut your mouth?" at the same time giving him a severe "chuck" under the chin. The effect of the blow caused the mouth to close, and the man soon recovered.—Chicago Post.

Cornetist.

This word is used throughout the Australian colonies in connection with a coroner's inquiry. It does not figure in any dictionary that I am aware of not even in Professor Morris' "Austral-English." It seems distinctly journalistic. How does the "C" come in, for one could understand the expression "a coronal inquiry." Is it a variant of "corony" or "al"? Perhaps somewhat akin to the formation of "baronial" from "barony" or "al"—Notes and Queries.

Our Children.

"Pauline, what have you done with your doll?"

"Mother, I have lost it."

"Well, well!"

"Oh, but I know where it is! I lost it on purpose, to have the pleasure of finding it!"—Figaro.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as the One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Instat vigorously on having it if "something else" is offered you. Howard Gardner.

Fanchon.

The Charlotte Observer has the following to say about the Eunice Goodrich Company, which appear at the academy of music three nights next week, Thursday March 15th:

The Goodrich Company opened their three-nights engagement to a "standing-room-only-house" last night. The audience was an inspired one, applauding the best parts enthusiastically. This made the whole company do their best, and the crowd left well pleased, resolved to go again tonight. The parts were all well taken. The specialties were good. The little girl was fascinating—a good singer and dancer. The serpentine dance was very graceful and the light effects the best ever seen here. The play tonight "A Husband Wanted," is a farce-comedy and guaranteed to please.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service
JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between
New York and St. Augustine, Fla.
This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointment, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sundays at 11:50 a. m., via the pensylvanian Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Pensylvanian R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2:20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroadings is known. It is composed of Pullman coaches, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the culinary rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St.
Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia,
S. C., and goes through to Alken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jacksonville are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via
"The Florida Short Line," one the
"Washington and Southern Ventibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Alken, Brunswick and Jacksonville. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G.

SURPRISE IN BREESE TRIAL.

Defense Introduces No Evidence and Argument Begins.

Asheville, N. C., March 13—The defense in the Brees trial today caused a sensation by announcing that they would introduce no testimony and were ready to proceed with the argument before the jury. As the defense had introduced no testimony they had the privilege of opening and closing the argument.
J. S. Adams opened for the defense.
He confined his discussion largely to the question of intent, and argued that even if the defendant had misapplied the funds of the bank, he could not be convicted until it could be shown that the intent was wrongful. He also made a strong appeal to the sympathies of the jury.

District Attorney Holton followed
Mr. Adams. He argued the matter from a legal standpoint and read a great many authorities to show that the question of intent could not be considered at all if the defendant realized the necessary consequences of his acts.
Judge J. A. Moore made a great effort for the defendant this afternoon.
He had not completed his argument at the hour of adjournment, and will do so in the morning. The following will then speak in the order named: Blackburn, B. Mum, Pritchard.—Special to Morning Post.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it cures that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by C. E. Holt n.

A New Railroad.

Messrs. Julian S. Carr and W. J.
Edwards and their associates, the gentlemen who made the proposition to the legislature to purchase the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad, have secured a charter to extend a line of railway west from Goldsboro through the counties Wayne, Johnston, Harnett, Moore and other western counties.

Notice.

tribution by or about March 10, 1899.
It is a handsome volume of about 200 pages descriptive of the South, and its vast resources, beautifully illustrated, and regarded by critics as the most complete production of its kind that has ever been published.

WADDELL TICKET WINS.

Labor Union Candidates Beaten All Along The Line.

Wilmington, March 13—The first democratic primary under the new city charter was held here today. The enthusiasm was intense and it was, with out doubt the warmest local campaign that has been waged in this city. The revolutionary mayor, Colonel A. M.
Waddell, was nominated by a safe majority, as was also the present chief of police, E. G. Parmle. The White Labor Union, which led the opposition to the present administration, was defeated on every side, every candidate endorsed by them, even for city council, being turned down. There is much enthusiasm displayed tonight over the result.

We Bid for Your Business.

In bidding for your business we do so on the merits of our merchandise and the seasonableness of our prices. It goes without saying that no other house between the Two Big Rivers can show you one-fourth the variety that we do in the various lines we carry. We aim to carry the best world produces in each particular line, but we do not lose sight of the fact that not every man or head of a family can afford to buy the best. Therefore we have carefully catered to the wants of the masses and we can assure the patrons of our house that the medium and cheaper grades to be found there are the best obtainable elsewhere in the union for the price we name. Our great purchasing power, coupled with our commercial courage, make these things possible. While our stock is not entirely complete, still with our buyer in New York and by shipping us every day only a few days will elapse before we will be able to present a solid front. The greatness of an opportunity depends upon the use you make of it. Here is one thrown at you—catch it. The pitchers are

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Hudson has a slight change in his ad today.
M. McNair, of Winston, was here last night.
John Jones, of Winston, spent last night in the city.
W. J. Blackburn left at noon today for a northern trip.
Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees are talking about umbrellas in their space today.
Mr. Nell Ellington, president of the Greensboro National Bank, is confined to his home by sickness.
J. M. Jenkins returned at noon today from Raleigh where he has been organizing a pressing club.
J. J. Crosswell, of Fayetteville, who holds a responsible position with the Southern Express Company, spent last night at the McAdoo.
It is understood that the Southern expects at an early date to fill in the trestle on its line, near Wilkesboro. Dirt is being hauled to the place from Winston for the purpose.
W. E. Lewis, who has conducted a grocery store in the Groome building, on South Elm street for the past few months, yesterday sold his stock of goods to J. W. Ferguson, formerly proprietor of the Guilford Racket. Mr. Ferguson has moved the stock to Davis street where he will continue the business.

Edwin Rostell.

One of the most important bookings that Manager McAdoo has made is the engagement of the American tragedian, Edwin Rostell, at the academy of music Monday and Tuesday, Mar. 20th and 21st, which promises to be interesting for several reasons. It will serve to introduce to the academy patrons an actor who has won high praise from those whose business it is to pass judgment upon the people of the stage, and it will be in a measure, an answer to those who claim that the Shakespearean drama is dying out for lack of worthy players to fill the shoes of the famous tragedians of the past. It is worthy of note that he has achieved his greatest success in plays closely associated with the career of the late Edwin Booth, and that critics elsewhere have with peculiar unanimity compared his work with that of the greatest Shakespearean actor of the day.

Stockholder's Meeting.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Guilford Battle Ground Company, will be held in the presidents room at the National Bank of Greensboro, at 4 o'clock p. m., Wednesday, March 15th, 1899. Red Rock Last Night.

"The South as Seen in Red Rock" was discussed by the Epworth League of West Market street last night. There was a splendid attendance. The rooms were filled to overflowing and it was found necessary to move the meeting to the Sunday school room. Several interesting papers, treating different parts of the book, were read. Old Southern songs, "The Old Kentucky Home," "My Old Kentucky Home," and "Old Folks at Home," were sung. The occasion was very interesting and highly instructive and will be long remembered by those who can appreciate such things.

MRS. HOUSEKEEPER:
Please permit us to ask you a very pointed question: Have you a Universal Food Chopper? By this we do not mean a meat grinder, but a Chopper, which takes the place of chopping bowl and beater. It chops meat, of course, but it does more. You can chop ham, cocoonut, or bread instead of grating it. You can—but we can't tell it all here. Our booklet gives full information. Free. You will have use for it every day in the year. It is very simple and very cheap. Please call and let us show it to you. Yours truly,
